Union School District No. 2

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the citizens and parents residing in Union school district:

The close of another financial year in town and school matters reminds us that a brief account of our stewardship is expected by the citizens of the district.

During the past year no disturbing matters have occurred of sufficient importance to interfere with the harmony and progress of the various departments for the thirty-six weeks that the schools have been in session.

The teachers have been faithful and painstaking in their efforts to instruct and encourage those committed to their charge and the pupils appear to have made commendable progress. Good order has been maintained and the scholars have seemed to be much interested in their studies and school work.

The same excellent corps of teachers with one exception has been employed as last year, with Miss Clara M. Ingalls in the Primary Grade, Miss Mary E. Taylor in Grades four and five, Miss Helen I. Whipple in Grades six and seven, Miss E. Belle Calley in Grades eight and nine and as Principal, Miss Theodate Burpee in the High school. At the end of the spring term Miss Nichols tendered her resignation which was accepted and Miss Faye Eaton French of New London was employed in her place in Grades two and three, coming from the Littleton Graded schools.

Instruction in physical culture, physiology and hygiene has been given in all of the schools and in the Constitution of New Hampshire in the upper grades.

Generally speaking the health of the scholars has been good, but during the spring term an epidemic of measles prevailed in Bristol as in many other places which seriously interfered with the attendance and general progress of the pupils.

At the opening of the fall term the Board directed the teachers to notify the scholars that all who had not been vaccinated must comply with the law and gave a list of the names of those who had not heretofore complied therewith to the Board of Health under whose jurisdiction the enforcement of the law falls.

During the summer as many of the blackboards so-called consisted of walls of plaster painted black which were ill adapted to the purposes required of them, the Board caused these surfaces under the direction of Mr. Albro Wells to be covered with more than three hundred square feet of Lithoplate, made of wood pulp and cement, of dark green color, very restful to the eyes and having a fine smooth surface clearly showing the crayon marks. This has proved so satisfactory that more of the same should be installed.

The sanitation of the school-buildings has been constantly in mind and duly cared for.

The finances of the District are in satisfactory condition. No extraordinary expenses have been incurred up to the present time or are anticipated for the remainder of the year.

During the latter part of the spring, a most interesting exhibit of the work of the year was made by all of the grades. The display of drawings and artistic work being especially fine. Among the things worthy of special mention were in Grade I, the card board pricking, leaf designs, paper novelties, and illustrative drawings; in Grades II and III, the relief maps of North and South America, made of wood pulp; in Grades IV and V, booklets of songs learned during the year, of history, geography and spelling examinations each having an appropriate design on the cover, furniture made by folding paper, and maps, especially those of the United States; in Grades VI and VII, freehand maps and paintings of flowers, particularly of the jack-in-the-pulpit; in Grades VIII and IX, sofa pillows, original designs, requiring much thought, accuracy and patience; in the High School the History Note Books containing outlines, colored maps, notes on Greek and Roman private life, autobiographies of chief citizens illustrated by drawings and printed pictures.

During the fall term the pupils in Grades VIII and IX have been executing skilful handiwork or chased work on brass plate, from original designs, which is worthy of note.

Parents and friends will find it well worth their while to attend the exhibition when held and to look over the drawings and other handiwork during the term time when visiting the schools, as great progress has been made in this direction during the past few years.

A new sand-table has been built for the use of Grades II and III.

At the close of the fall term, interesting literary exercises by the pupils of the upper grades occurred, which were finely rendered and were well attended by visiting friends.

There is one matter in which many parents do not take sufficient interest for their children and that is in the care of the teeth. Neglected and unclean teeth are the cause of much ill health and many bodily ills. In order to have a sound mind in a sound body cleanliness of hands, face and body are already recognized as essential. To these essentials must now be added that of clean teeth. Even dentists are advocating the need of general instruction in the care and preservation of the teeth. In some jurisdictions, public school pupils are provided with tooth-brushes at the public expense in order to make clean teeth obligatory. We do not regard this as necessary here, but urge parents and guardians to give more attention to this important matter.

The present trend of this intensely practical and commercial age is reflected in educational as well as ordinary business matters, resulting to a certain extent in a decided conflict between specialized training and general education. On the one hand is the idea of early education along special, technical and vocational lines, that the young man or woman may more speedily become a producer in some special line of work.

In consonance with this, is the idea of consolidating rural and village schools providing therein courses of agriculture, home economics and social and civic affairs and of replacing formal arithmetic, grammar and geography with manual training, domestic science and industrial subjects, in order that when the pupil leaves the highest grade of these schools, he may be fitted or started in some special vocation; that the purpose of the school is to make men ready for practical life and for efficiency and service through vocational studies.

On the other hand it is claimed that most Americans are not living; they are merely making a living; that while there must be practical men there must also be idealists; that while we cling to the realities of life, we must remember that they are but servants of the spiritual; that civilization does not consist of engines, telephones and subways, but that it is a state of mind; that Aristotle never made a flying leap to evade an automobile nor was Socrates driven wild by his neighbor's phonograph. In short that civilization consists not of inventions and machinery but in the state of mind of the citizen; that the product of real education is the ability to see the vision of the ideal; that we should not be overcome by the mad cry for immediate productiveness, for it is better to be a keen appreciator than an indifferent producer; that we should develop emotions as well as intellect, ideals as well as sense, souls as well as brains, dreams as well as cash, for the dreamless man is the unhappiest of all beings.

In the midst of this concrete, this material loving, this really practical age, let us remember that we live, "In feelings, not in figures on a dial. We should count time by heart throbs."

Specialization has heretofore been considered the province of the post-graduate school or course but it now seems to be reaching down toward our preparatory schools.

Time and experience will probably demonstrate the wise and proper course to be taken in these matters.

Our village schools ought to be more than mere trade schools.

The training therein given the pupils should tend to the development of the highest and best powers within them, to implant in them a love for knowledge and a firm grasp of the principles of correct thinking, to develop their ideals, their emotions, their souls, to enable them as men and women to work more quickly, accurately and intelligently and to enjoy in more noble and varied ways and ultimately to gain a more complete understanding of themselves and of their Divine Creator.

Our secondary schools are only the opening wedge to education, which is continuous with life through personal experience, study and thought.

The test of education is said to be the sort of person education makes of one.

A distinguished teacher of the present time considers his pupils educated in the best sense of the term when they can answer yes to every one of the following thirteen questions:

1. Has education given you sympathy with all good causes and made you eager to espouse them?
2. Has it made you public spirited?
3. Has it made you brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to make friends and keep them? Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?
5. Can you look an honest man or pure woman straight in the eye?
6. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
7. Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?
8. Can you be high-minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?
9. Do you think washing dishes and hoeing corn just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?
10. Are you good for anything to yourself; can you be happy alone?
11. Can you look out on the world and see anything, except dollars and cents?
12. Can you look into a mud-puddle by the wayside and see the clear sky? Can you see anything in the puddle but the mud?

13. Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars? Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator?

In other words, education should teach us to be useful, highminded and happy and to see God in everything.

During the year Mr. Roswell Cutler of the Board, after years of faithful and efficient service in behalf of Union District, concluded to remove to Worcester, Mass., thereby creating a vacancy which will need to be filled at the annual meeting of the District.

The present members of the Board are Messrs. Frank N. Gilman, chairman; Albro Wells, secretary; Mrs. Ada B. Cavis, Mrs. Mabel M. Ladd and Ira A. Chase.

The roll of honor or perfect attendance for the year past is hereto appended.

Respectfully submitted,

For the Board of Education,

IRA A. CHASE, Supt.

Report of School Board

FOR TOWN SCHOOL DISTRICT FOR THE YEAR ENDING
JULY 15, 1909.

The year just past has been a successful one with no exceptions.

We have been successful in securing competent teachers, who have worked hard for the interest of their pupils.

The attendance has been better than in some previous years, and we hope for improvement in this respect that we may be able to secure aid from the state.

Our High school tuitions have not been as much as usual, six tenths paid by the state.

The school at Profile Falls has had four pupils from Hill, which aids in supporting a school.

The number of visitors as shown by the registers indicates that school interests are on the gain. A little extra hard work will make a great improvement at the schoolhouse and school meeting.

Much of the success of a school lays with the parents.

Our buildings are in fair shape, and not many repairs have been made.

Respectfully submitted,

L. H. VARNEY,	} School
C. E. JEWELL,		} Board.
C. E. KIMBALL,

Minot-Sleeper Library

The Minot-Sleeper library continues to hold a high place in the estimation of the people of this town. This is attested by the fact that during the past year 8,319 books have been withdrawn for home reading, and 1,579 persons have enjoyed the advantages of its reading room. The reading room is especially attractive to the young and here the leading magazines are read by them. The advantages of this feature of the library can hardly be overestimated in developing a taste among the young for the highest class of literature.

This library is especially rich, for one of its size, in books of reference. Indeed it is a gem in this particular and is largely patronized by those desiring information in any branch of knowledge.

During the year 200 new volumes have been placed on the shelves containing books for circulation, making a total of 7,614 books of this class. There have also been added 140 reference books and pamphlets making 725 of this character. In addition to these there are 800 stored away in the gallery for want of room on the shelves where they should be kept. Many of them are valuable and are worthy of a better housing, but lack of room compels their disposition in this out-of-the-way place.

The inadequacy of the present building to accommodate even the present number of books on hand is painfully apparent and in the nature of the case this condition is growing worse every year. To keep the library up to date and meet the demands of the public new books must be added each year and this only adds to the congestion already existing. The trustees are well aware that the town is financially unable at present to make such additions to the building as the present and prospective needs of the library demand, much less to erect a new and larger building such as all lovers of the library would desire to see, but they are hoping that means may come from some source to afford the needed relief, and enable this valuable institution to continue to grow as it has in the past.

To the valuable collection of stuffed birds and animals presented by the late Mrs. E. K. Pray, there have been added recently a fine specimen of a hawk and a white headed eagle. These were presented by Dr. A. V. Doud and he and others have intimated a desire to make other donations of this kind were it possible to find a proper place for them. If one half of the present room could be used as a reading room and the other half devoted to a museum, a very fine collection of this character and articles of great historic value would soon be obtained. This is another reason why the trustees and the public generally would welcome increased room.

In this connection the trustees are hoping that the well-known generosity of Andrew Carnegie, which has prompted him to assist so many other towns, may prompt him to come to the relief of Bristol. Some correspondence has been had with this gentleman with this end in view and the hope is entertained that these efforts may prove successful.
